

NEWSLETTER

25th January 2007

MOMO & TRIDENT TOGETHER ALSO FOR 2007

After the success in the GP2 Series during the past season, MOMO and Trident Racing are announcing the renewal of their partnership also for 2007.

For the new 2007 GP2 Series campaign, Trident has chosen the Japanese driver Kohei Hirate, selected by Toyota for its Toyota Drivers Program (TDP). Hirate, 20 years old from Nagoya, has been racing an excellent season in the F3 Euroseries, finishing third overall in the Driver's Classification and showing excellent technical qualities and a great determination.

MOMO has been developing for Trident a brand new range of products, from the new suits, lighter and with more breathability, to the new racewear with a renewed style.

We are now expecting the official announcement on the driver who will be racing with Hirate at Trident with the new Toyota.